

Delivering Government Sales Opportunities Daily

The government purchases more goods and services than any vertical market in the world. But does tapping into those opportunities and identifying the right ones for your business seem like an overwhelming task?

Not if you have the right tools. The BH Sky Bid Alert Service provides an enormous competitive advantage by delivering relevant, timely and actionable opportunities straight to your inbox.

The BH Sky Bid Alert Service is a daily email report that delivers bid notices, requests for proposal and contracting opportunities. This highly customized information can be fine-tuned based on business, industry, and location to give you results specific to your needs.

Each business day, we deliver thousands of new business opportunities from more than 89,000 government purchasing offices at the federal, state, local and education levels. Those opportunities are collected, sorted and categorized to match your customized profile. Then each weekday, we send you a compiled report that contains only the most relevant and useful information and sales opportunities for your business.

The Advantage

The BH Sky Bid Alert Service connects you to more government sales opportunities by providing:

Expertise

Our dedicated research teams collect, categorize and classify thousands of sales opportunities each day.

Breadth

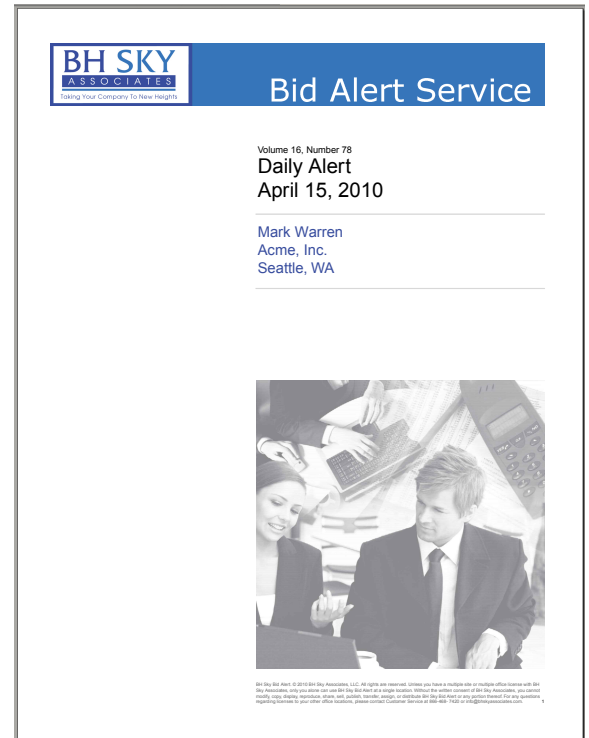

We broaden your reach by identifying relevant opportunities in both existing and untapped markets.

Depth

We give you access to actionable opportunities throughout the procurement lifecycle - from advance notice of upcoming government projects, to available grants, bid and RFP notices, hard-to-find federal opportunities and award data.

Customization

We provide you with relevant, targeted reports that can be customized to your company needs. The BH Sky Bid Alert features many vertical industry categories to work within, including Architecture & Engineering, Construction, IT & Telecommunications, Transportation and more.

How It Works

With the BH Sky Bid Alert Service, you get easy-to-use reports that are tailored to your business. Daily reports contain actionable, high value information on government opportunities. Clearly marked and organized, it gives you all pertinent data points at-a-glance. Report even updates you when something changes, so you always have the latest information.
